INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

European Legislation is a specialized scientific journal that deals with the study of European Union law, as well as legislative aspects of European integration. In this sense, the journal covers the field of social sciences, scientific disciplines - International and European law and International relations.

The journal is published continuously quarterly, four times a year in four volumes or three times a year (as two issues and two separate volumes).

The journal publishes only peer-reviewed author's works. Reviews are doubly anonymous.

Papers submitted for publication must represent the results of own or joint theoretical or empirical research.

Authors are obliged to adhere to ethical standards related to scientific research work in accordance with international standards in their works.

Authors are obliged to respect the copyright and intellectual property of other persons in their works.

Authors are obliged to submit an author's declaration, the form of which can be downloaded from the journal's website: https://evropskozakonodavstvo.rs/en/manuscript-submission/

Papers that have already been published under the same or similar title in another publication will not be published in European legislation. An exception is possible only in the situation, if the editor-in-chief of the journal assesses that the quality of the work is such that its publication in whole or in part and with respect to all copyrights could contribute to the improvement of scientific research. In the aforementioned case, the source from which the attachment was taken is stated in the footnote on the title page of the paper, with the note that only one of the published papers can be submitted for evaluation in terms of the Rulebook of the relevant ministry that regulates the procedure, method of evaluation and quantitative presentation of scientific research results.

Authors of contributions are obliged to adhere to scientific methodology when writing papers, as well as to observe the following instructions:

INSTRUCTIONS FOR WRITING THE PAPER

Since the journal European Legislation can have a theoretical and practical significance for harmonizing the legislation and legal practice of the Republic of Serbia with the legislation and legal practice of the European Union, authors are required to standardize their papers according to these Instructions, and to adhere to the following when writing and submitting papers instructions:

Page settings

The text is aligned with both margins (Format, Paragraph, Indents and Spacing, Alignment, Justified). Words should not be divided into syllables at the end of a line. All pages should be numbered. Papers should not be longer than one author's sheet (up to 16 pages).

Specifying the title of the paper

The title should describe the content of the paper as faithfully as possible. The title is given in Serbian and should be written in capital letters, bold, font size 14 pt. The title is separated from the text with the command - Spacing before 18 pt. The title is written in English above the summary attached at the end of the paper (ABSTRACT).

Citation of author's name and affiliation

Below the title of the text is the name and surname of the author of the article. As a rule, the full name and surname of (all) authors is stated. The function and title of the author are not stated. The name of the institution where the author is employed (affiliation), is stated in the note (*) at the bottom of the title page of the author's text. An e-mail address of the author is also mentioned in the note.

Listing of acknowledgments

The acknowledgment is stated as information that the text was created within the framework of work on a specific scientific project or within a specific program. Acknowledgment is indicated in the note (*), at the bottom of the first page of the author's text after the affiliation.

Abstracts

Papers in European legislation should contain abstracts in Serbian and English.

Abstracts represent a brief informative presentation of the content of the work that enables the reader to quickly and unambiguously assess its relevance. The constituent parts of the abstract include the objectives, methods and results of the research, as well as the conclusion. The length of the abstract should not exceed 250 words. The abstract is attached on the first page of the work, immediately below the title, that is, the author's name and surname.

A summary in English (ABSTRACT) is attached at the end of the paper.

Key words

Abstracts and summaries must contain keywords. Keywords are terms or phrases that thematically, theoretically, methodologically, disciplinarily, subdisciplinarily and in other relevant ways refer to the content of the work for the purposes of indexing and searching. Keywords should be chosen with reference to some international source (list, dictionary or thesaurus) that is most widely referenced within international citation databases for the scientific field of social sciences (for example, Web of Science, Journal Citation Report, SCImago Journal Rank). Keywords are added below the Abstracts in Serbian or English.
Subtitles

Depending on the topic covered by the text of the paper, the subtitles will also depend. It is desirable that the articles in the journal European Legislation deal with individual normative acts (Directives, Regulations, Recommendations, Announcements, Decisions, Contracts, etc.), and that in addition to the introductory Abstract and key words, they also have the following subtitles:

1) PURPOSE;
2) EU MEASURES;
3) CONTENT;
4) EFFECTIVE DATE;
5) SOURCES (Invocatio legis, with all data on the normative act including the number of the Official Journal of the EU - Official Journal, or other official source);
6) SIGNIFICANCE FOR THE REPUBLIC OF SERBIA;
7) LITERATURE and,
8) SUMMARY (ABSTRACT).

Sub-subheadings

Sub-subtitles are written in capital letters (Uppercase), with the format to the left (Align text left), with the indication of the number of subtitles to which the number of sub-subtitles is added in order (for example, 1.1., 1.2, 2.1., 2.2., etc.). The font size should be 12pt.

Sub-sub-sub-headings

Sub-sub-subtitles are written in italics, with the format to the left (Align text left), with an indication of the number of subtitles, sub-subtitles to which the number of sub-sub titles is added in order (for example, 1.1.1., 2.1.1, etc). The font size should be 12pt.

Other important instructions

The beginning line in each paragraph should not be indented with a tab — option tab.

Foreign words and expressions, as well as names, should be indicated in italics (for example, acquis communautaire, European Judicial Network, ipso iure, res iudicata, etc.).

Foreign names should be written in transcribed form, and in the first reference, after the name in parentheses, put the name in the original, for example, Antonio Cassese.

The full names of the authors, not their initials, are given in the paper.

The names of normative acts of the European Union are capitalized (for example, Treaty, Protocol, Directive, Regulation, Communication, Declaration, etc.).

In the text of the paper, upper and lower quotation marks (““) should be used for citations. For quotations in foreign languages, only upper quotation marks (“”) are used. For quotations within the cited text, internal quotation marks (’’) are used.
CITATION

Footnotes must be written at the bottom of the page (Footnote option), and footnote marks should be placed only at the end of the sentence. Data on the specified bibliographic unit in the footnotes should be given in accordance with the following rules:

Monographs

Full name and surname of the author, title of the monograph (in Italic), name of the publisher, place of publication, year of publication, p. if one or more foreign sources in the Serbian language are cited, i.e. p. if one side of the source is cited in English or pp. if multiple pages are cited. If multiple pages are cited, a middle line without spaces is used (for example, pp. 123–245; pp. 22–50).

Proceedings

When quoting the contribution contained in the collection in Serbian, the full name and surname of the author, the title of the article in quotation marks, the full name and surname of the editor of the collection marked (ed.), the full name of the collection in italics, the name of the publisher, place of publication, year editions and number of pages.

When quoting the contribution contained in the collection in English, the full name and surname of the author, the title of the article in quotation marks, the full name and surname of the editor of the collection with the mark (ed.), i.e. if there are several editors with the mark (eds), are given.

Articles in scientific journals

Full name and surname of the author, title of the text (in quotation marks), name of the journal (in Italic), volume number, issue number, p. (or pp.) from -to. Page numbers are separated by a dash (-), without spaces. If some data is incomplete, it is necessary to emphasize it.

Articles in daily newspapers and magazines

Indicate the author's name (or initials if only they are listed), the title of the article — under quotation marks, the name of the newspaper or magazine (in Italic), the date written in Arabic numerals, the number of the page/pages.

List of documents

Indicate the name of the document (under quotation marks), the article, point or paragraph to which the author refers, the journal or official gazette in which the document was published (in Italic), volume number, issue number, place and year of publication.

Citation of decisions of the court and other bodies

When citing the decisions of judicial and other bodies, the name of the decision, the institutional number, the date of adoption and the source, i.e. the official publication in which the decision was published. If part of the text of the decision is taken in the translation, it also states the page number from which the text was taken.
Citing sources from the Internet

Name of the author, title of the work or article, full Internet address that allows the specified source to be reached by typing the specified address, date of access to the page on the Internet, page number (if available and if the attachment is published in PDF).

Repetition of previously mentioned sources

When we refer to a source that has already been cited in the text after other footnotes, it is mandatory to put the name and surname of the author, the title of the source, then op. cit. And finally the page number (eg Michael Levi, "The Organization of Serious Crimes", op. cit., p. 879). Ibid. or Ibidem to be used exclusively when citing the source mentioned in the previous footnote, with an indication of the page/page number, if the new citation is from that source (eg Ibid., p. 11).

LITERATURE

References are listed at the end of the text as a separate subheading. The literature should contain only monographs, collections and articles in scientific journals. References are sorted alphabetically, each reference one below the other, with a new row starting with a new number (for example, 1), 2), 3), etc.). The last name is given, then the name of the author, then other bibliographic data according to the instructions for citation.

DELIVERY OF WORKS
